County Ambulance Speedup Plan Told

Dr. Harold D. Chope, San Mateo County health director, proposed to the board of supervisors a joint public-private ambulance service which could reach an injured person within 10 minutes.

The doctor also urged that the county enter into a contract with private hospitals whereby the latter would agree to treat injured persons, regardless of financial status, and keep him in the hospital for at least 24 hours, if necessary.

The hospital contract, the doctor explained, would eliminate transfer of patients from private to public hospitals while in critical condition because of lack of funds.

The supervisors, who received the report this week, had no comment, except to say that they would study it carefully.

In addition, they set a meeting for 9 a. m. today to discuss the report with representatives of Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno and Colma.

Dr. Chope's recommendations climaxed a 4-year campaign by north county cities for better ambulance service.

The health director said that if his recommendations are followed, eight or nine ambulances would be in service for emergencies and would be dispatched through tight county control.

His recommendations, in summary:

1. That the sheriff's office be made the central dispatching agency for all ambulances, including the privately-owned ones.

2. That the county enter into contract with the private ambulance firms in the county. The Peninsula Ambulance Service, Redwood City, has three ambulances, and the Bay Area Ambulance Co. of Colma has two. No mention was made in the report of the Palo Alto Ambulance Service, which also handles calls in the south end of San Mateo County.

3. That all industries be notified that they should make arrangements for private ambulance service, and that the county ambulances would roll on industrial accidents only if private ambulances were not available.

In connection with this, the county ambulances are not to be stationed at rodeos, shows, races, air shows or similar affairs at which admission is charged. The operators should contact for private ambulance service, the doctor recommended.

4. That for the present the county continue to maintain its ambulance service as in the past, except that the "obsolete" ambulance operated from Daly City be decommissioned.

The proposed public-private ambulance service is to be an experiment for a year, the doctor declared.

In addition, he set up certain conditions which the private ambulance companies would be expected to meet.

They would have to maintain vehicles passing California Highway Patrol safety standards; staff each vehicle with two men; provide first aid training for the crew and dress them in uniforms meeting health department specifications; carry public liability insurance and workmen's compensation; post a performance bond; and try to collect from the patients they transport.

If the private ambulance company cannot collect, the county would pay for the service. The county would pay the ambulance company only when the emergency vehicle is dispatched through the sheriff's office.

The county would pay for "dry runs" at a rate to be settled later. In connection with the hospital contract, the county would agree to the following:

1. Pay the hospital for emergency room treatment at cost.

2. Pay the hospital for the first 24 hours of emergency care in cases admissible to Community Hospital. After the first 24 hours the rate would include general ward care and nursing.

3. That all industries be notified that they should make arrangements for private ambulance service, and that the county ambulances would roll on industrial accidents only if private ambulances were not available.

COMMUNITY CHEST CAMPAIGN — Drives are getting underway in Redwood City, San Carlos and Belmont by Community Chest solicitors for funds to carry on activities of various agencies. Belmont was the first to start. Redwood City will open its campaign with a parade and rally to be held in conjunction with the dedication of field lights at the Sequoia-San Leandro football game on the night of Sept. 30. San Carlos' drive starts Sunday, Oct. 2. Five-year-old Ann Scollin of Redwood City is shown with her turtle, which is advertising the Chest campaign with the sign: "Don't be as slow as Mollie the Turtle, give now."

Belmont Planners Reject Jockey Club Dirt Haul Bid

Before a large audience of interested home owners, Belmont's planning commission this week recommended denial by city councilmen of the California Jockey Club's application to remove 56,000 cubic yards of fill material from the area west of the San Carlos-Belmont city limits.

The planning commission's action met with approval of most citizens attending the meeting. Since the jockey club had planned to haul the soil along Belmont streets, residents opposed the application because of dust and heavy traffic which was anticipated had the club's plan won approval.

The Bay Meadows Race Track group had earlier won tentative approval from the San Mateo County Planning Commission, which stipulated that final action must come from the city of Belmont.

Belmont's planners in denying the application ordered the clerk to send notice of its action to the county commission.

The panel approved an application of the Foothills Development Co. to rezone 1000 feet of property fronting on the westerly side of El Camino Real north of Middle Rd. The area, previously classed as residential, will now be a business zone.

An application by C. P. Philipp to divide a large lot on North Rd. at the intersection of Ruth Ave. into two smaller ones was denied.

Philipp also asked that he be given permission to alter the setback lines on the property. He was given permission to change lines from 20 or 25 feet on one side and 8 feet on the other, as called for in the ordinance, to 20 feet on each streetside.

The State Social Welfare Dept. is going to set up a separate office in Redwood City to administer the old age and blind program voted under Proposition 4.

A building permit was taken out in Redwood City for construction of office quarters at 619 Bradford St. The value of the building was listed at $25,000.

At the present time the state program is handled by the San Mateo County Social Welfare division offices in the basement of the courthouse.

Many of the 25 employees who are working on the program will be shifted to the new office, according to Social Welfare Supt. Adrian Ward.

Work already has started on the building, although the status of the program may be upset in the Nov. 8 election. The staff expects to move into the building on Nov. 1.

B Division Playoffs Scheduled for Friday

B division softball championship playoffs in the Redwood City Softball League will be held tonight at Hawes Park at 8:15 when the Gertz winners of the first half meet Fabbro's winners of the second half.

The double header scheduled between the West Coast Industrial team of San Francisco and Carmel will be held Saturday night at Hawes with the first game getting underway at 8. Mario Victor will hurl the first game for the San Francisco team.

SC Officer's Wife Dies, Probe On

Death in Community Hospital Tuesday of Mrs. Janet Cecilia Ogilvie, 35, wife of a San Carlos police officer, was still undetermined today pending completion of reports by county officials.

Mrs. Ogilvie, wife of Officer Douglas M. Ogilvie of the San Carlos Police Dept., died at 2:20 p. m. Tuesday after receiving treatment for an overdose of sleeping pills during the past three days.

She had lived with her two children, Jaimie Ann and Michael Ogilvie, at 120 Arundel St. In addition to her husband and children, Mrs. Ogilvie is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mary Adamson of San Carlos.

Mrs. Ogilvie had been a resident of San Carlos for the past eight years. She was a native of San Francisco.

Private funeral services were held at the White Oaks Chapel of Roller and Haggood in San Carlos yesterday.

2665 Students Register At Sequoia

Students at Sequoia High School, 2665 strong according to the official count, settled down to routine business on the local campus after meeting their teachers and getting first assignments Monday.

The total number of students, while somewhat below earlier expectations, was almost 200 more than the number on hand a year ago when 2497 registered.

Boys outnumbered girls in contrast to the usual trend, school authorities said, totaling 1351 while the girls numbered 1314. Freshmen had the largest number of students in their ranks with 755, while the sophomores were not far behind with 717 enrolled. A total of 674 juniors were registered, while seniors brought up the rear with 518.

There was one post graduate student signed up for classes today.

Broken down into boys and girls by class, the figures look like this: Freshmen, boys 385; girls 370; sophomores, boys 371; girls 346; juniors 320 and 354; and seniors 274 and 244.

Menlo Park's school children numbered 967 in all, according to Supt. Melville J. Homfeld, compared to 813 at this time last year.

The largest of Menlo Park's three units was Fremont-Hillview where 454 children were at their desks. Encinal School had 348 pupils enrolled and Central numbered 167. The increase of more than 150 pupils was general throughout the district, authorities said.

At Sequoia students Monday attended opening day assemblies where Cmsr. of Welfare John Imberson told of plans for the year. Others on the program were Supt. Clyde Ogden, Principal Thor Kroyh, Deans Donald L. Bogie and Doris Dean.

Keith Cole represented the school's board of trustees at the meetings.

Ogden announced that all teachers new to the faculty have secured suitable housing, and thanked the public for its cooperation.

In summing up the first day's activities, Ogden said that confusion of past years was minimized by appearance of the first issue of The Sequoia Times, student publication. Valuable information, he said, served as a guide to new and old students alike in aiding their orientation.

All text books to be used in classes were distributed to various rooms prior to opening of school, Ogden added, preventing usual delay by teachers in giving early assignments. Students attended all seven periods, though classes were shortened to allow for other activities.

An offer by William Soule to deed to the city property between Old County Rd. and Elmer St. this week was recommended for acceptance by the Belmont Planning Commission. The property used as a thoroughfare by the public for 40 years, corresponds with Waterline Ave. as extended east of El Camino Real.

The commission in accepting Soule's offer provided that no inmediate street improvements be undertaken by the city.

Urges Belmont Accept Soule Property Deed

An account of a train ride which included capture of an escaped killer was written by Mrs. Helen K. Beanson of Redwood City and appeared in last Saturday's Rocky Mountain News.

Mrs. Beanson recalled how the murderer rushed onto the train as it was pulling out of the station, almost knocking over the local woman's brother who had come down to see her off.

She also wrote that after an unusually long delay at a small city, the train's conductor revealed that the fugitive was among the passengers. A companion promptly suffered a heart attack when she heard the news, further adding to the confusion, according to Mrs. Beanson's account.

San Carlos Kiwanians Hear Gardening Talk

San Carlos Kiwanis Club members heard a fellow member, John Boucher, speak on landscape gardening at their regular meeting this week. Boucher, who has landscaped many Peninsula gardens, illustrated his talk with colored slides.

Clayton Roberts, program chairman, presided in the absence of Pres. Kit Carlton.

Litton Company Gains By Judge's Ruling

Residents of the Eaton Ave. area who are trying to halt reconstruction of the Lytton Engineering Laboratory building near their homes lost their first round in a court battle Wednesday.

Superior Judge Andrew R. Schottky upheld a demurrer filed

The suit, filed on July 6, was an attempt by the residents to force the board of supervisors and the sheriff to halt construction of the building west of Redwood City.

Judge Schottky suggested to the resident's attorney, Mario Paolini of San Francisco, that he proceed with direct action in the form of an injunction against the laboratory, instead of indirectly against the county.

The building, for which a permit had been granted during the war, burned in 1945. It is in the residential area.

The residents had sought to stop the reconstruction by a writ of mandate, ordering the county officials to enforce the county zoning ordinance.

A Redwood City man is dead today and another Redwood City resident is under investigation for involuntary manslaughter after an early morning traffic accident on Spring St. just north of Charter St.

Dead is Charles Frank Koltak, 37-year-old mechanic of 3130 Fair Oaks Ave. Police said Koltak was struck by a car driven by Robert E. Wyman, 24, 606 Scott Ave., as Koltak was walking along the south side of Spring St. at 1:15 a. m. today.

The driver of the car was booked by police for investigation but has been released on his own recognizance. Dep. Dist. Atty. Vernon Vail said Wyman was released this morning but that he may be called for further questioning.

He told Vernon he did not see Koltak as he was driving his vehicle south on Spring St. Koltak was walking in the same direction as Wyman's car was moving and the vehicle struck him from behind. The impact broke both the man's legs and his body was badly bruised.

He was dead on arrival at Community Hospital.

The death was the fourth fatal accident in Redwood City this year and the first pedestrian fatality.

Wyman told the district attorney he was traveling approximately 35 miles an hour at the time of the accident. Koltak's body was thrown 126 feet after he was struck by the car.

Sgt. C. V. Stafford of the Redwood City Police Dept., who investigated the accident, said Wyman's car was about 350 feet north of the Charter-Spring St. intersection.

Apparently Wyman did not see Koltak until it was too late to avoid the accident, Stafford said.

Koltak had been a resident of this city for about one year. He leaves his widow, Ann Marie Koltak, and was the father of Theresa Marie and William Joseph Koltak.

He was a member of TWU 505, mechanics' union.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Roller-Haggood and Lorenzen Funeral Home. The body is being sent to Grand Rapids, Mich., for burial.

In behalf of county officials who were sued by eight residents.

The suits were filed by Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. Merin A. Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford G. Sturgeon, Mr. and Mrs. Abby J. Logie, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Miran F. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scoffern, Mr. and Mrs. Grover W. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Loy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Pinkerton, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Engman, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Engman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Hutteball, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Kellum, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur U. Ruhanen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Keith C. Sorenson, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil F. Blank, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Little and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eisenberg.

Pre-School Class Set in Belmont

Parents of children of kindergarten age in the Belmont Elementary School Dist. still have an opportunity to enroll their offspring for pre-school training.

Mrs. Mark Nesbitt, superintendent, reported that there are three less than capacity registered in the morning session at Louis Barrett School and one opening in the afternoon program, although Central School's single session has the 36 pupils allowed by the state.

Mrs. Nesbitt said that less than capacity attendance could probably be traced to a number of parents who are holding out children because of afternoon kindergarten classes. Unlike last year, she pointed out, there is now no waiting list.

Issue 12 Permits In San Carlos

Twelve new building permits, totalling $76,500, were reported by Building Inspector Vincent Murphy of San Carlos today in his weekly survey.

The new construction permits brought the annual building valuation to $2,558,650 and the total of new homes to 185, according to Murphy's report.

Of the new permits issued within the past week, six were for new homes, while two were for business and the remaining four called for alterations to private dwellings.

Pari-Mutuel Clerk Sues Union as Bay Meadows Track Opens

A pari-mutuel worker this week sought a court order preventing an American Federation of Labor union from interfering with his work at Bay Meadows, or from blackballing him at other tracks.

The suit was filed in superior court here by Donald Moynahan of Arcadia, in a complaint which he prepared himself.

Moynahan is suing the Pari-Mutuel Employees Guild, Local 280, its officers and from 750 to 800 "John Does," all members of the union.

He claimed that his application for work at the 41-day racing meet started Tuesday at Bay Meadows has been approved by the California Jockey Club. However, unless restrained by a court, the union will deprive him of his right to work there, Moynahan claimed.

Moynahan stated that he has worked for the Santa Anita track, the Hollywood Turf Club meet at Inglewood, the Western Harbors Racing Assn. meets and at other tracks.

Agents of Local 280 have "threatened and coerced" management of the tracks, including Bay Meadows, into signing closed shop contracts, Moynahan charged, with the threat that "you'll never open this track until you do."

He charged that the union fraudulently represented itself to be the sole bargaining agent for pari-mutuel employees in the state. In addition, he claimed that the union charged him $15 for a permit to work at each racing meet, or a total of $90 for six meets in one year. At the same time, he stated, union members pay only $36 a year.

Moynahan claimed that he was dismissed from his job at the Los Angeles Turf Club last year because of the "scheming" of union agents. He charged that he has been refused membership in the union, and was told he was blackballed because he "talked to the management."

The court order he is seeking would bar the union from interfering in Moynahan's work at any race track in the state.

San Carlos Feud Over Tree Ends in Council Compromise

The San Carlos verbal battle over "the old pine tree" appeared to be nearing a showdown today following adoption of a compromise measure by the San Carlos City Council.

Councilmen agreed that the city would supply the labor for erection of a tree to replace the one taken down several weeks ago. The Carmelita Dr. residents, however, must now supply the tree, the council stipulated.

Earlier a motion by Newell Sharkey that the city donate $150 toward solution of the problem ended in a 2-2 deadlock. Sharkey's motion provided that residents pay the balance of expenses should costs of erection exceed the city fund.

Councilmen John Kemp and Walter Moltke voted against the measure, while Acting Mayor William Klose sided with Sharkey. The two dissenting members voted against the provision on the grounds that such a step would set a precedent for others in the city and that the city should not bear the costs.

The 45-minute discussion opened with a report to the council from Robert Brown Telfer, 2157 Carmelita Dr., who said estimates fixed cost of the tree and its installation at about $135. He pointed out that replacement of the tree would cost much to reduce speed of automobiles along the street and would enhance the beauty of the residential area.

Telfer said he and his citizens' committee had conferred with other city attorneys on the Peninsula who discounted city liability provided proper precautions were taken.

Acting City Atty. Cyrus J. McMillan agreed that "it's purely a question of fact" regarding city liability. He said the city would be blameless in event of damage provided it took steps to see that the tree did not become a public nuisance and also erected signs and reflectors as warnings to motorists.

Others speaking on behalf of the replacement plan were K. W. Sawyer, 2177 Carmelita Dr., and S. H. Nielsen, 2220 Carmelita Dr.

After the proceedings were over, Telfer was asked if he felt the action represented a victory for his group.

"You'd be surprised," he beamed, "what a victory it is!" Telfer and City Mgr. Howard Brod will now work out a joint plan in securing a tree and proper precautions.

Army High Command Says Camiri Captured

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Camiri, a rebel stronghold, fell to government troops today and the rebel radio shortly afterward announced the loss of Santa Cruz, last major city in the hands of the revolutionists.

The army high command announced the capture of Camiri, Bolivia's chief oil producing center, and said it expected to have miri, which cut the rebel supply definite word on the fall of Santa Cruz within a few hours.

Fall of Santa Cruz means the last vestige of the rightist revolution which broke out Aug. 27 are wiped out. Capture of Camiri, made the revolutionists' position in Santa Cruz untenable.

Woman Faces Robbery Hearing

FRESNO (AP)—Mary Ellen Thompson, 25, who admitted holding up a drive in restaurant here for $29, today faced a preliminary hearing on an armed robbery charge next Thursday.

She was arraigned before Police Judge George W. Huffman yesterday. Composed after a tearful surrender to police, she indicated she may waive her preliminary.

Miss Thompson, mother of a four-year-old daughter, did not give any reason for the robbery when she gave herself up Tuesday, less than 24 hours after the restaurant was held up. She returned to police $20 of the $29, and promised to repay the rest.

Society for Blind At Kiwanis Meet

The National Transcribers Society for the Blind presented a varied program for the Redwood City Kiwanis Club at its meeting held yesterday at the Three Owls restaurant.

Mrs. Elsie L. Cooper, executive secretary of the society, told of the work of the group and explained the Braille alphabet to the club. She presented Hervey Rainville, pianist, who played three selections, and 4-year-old Miss Peggy Lee who sang "Cruising Down the River."

Earl Whitaker was program chairman and John Ball, president, presided.

'Sweet-Talks' Woman Out of $14,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police early today arrested a 28-year-old trailer court resident who they said "sweet-talked" a Chicago man out of $14,000.

Leland Dann, 28, was booked on a Chicago fugitive warrant charging grand theft bunco. Detectives said that Dann met the manicurist—Miss Lorraine Mackay—in the union depot there where she polished his fingernails.

They added that the meeting developed into an old style "candy and flowers" romance climaxed by Dann's "borrowing" of 14 one-thousand dollar bills from Miss Mackay to back a business venture.

Officer John E. Erickson said Dann admitted taking the money but explained: "I signed a five year note for it."

Erickson added that Dann left Chicago with the $14,000 for Los Angeles where he married a 30-year-old waitress last March.

Off-Street Parking For Business Areas Asked by Planners

The Redwood City Planning Commission this week referred to the city council for action at its next meeting an amendment to the zoning ordinance which would require certain business places in Redwood City to provide off-street parking on the basis of building floor space.

The present zoning ordinance, under the planning commission's recommendations, would be amended to require commercial business in "H" districts to provide parking under a formula set up by the planners.

As an example, retail stores, under the "H" district regulations, would be required to provide one parking space for each 200 square feet of floor space and one loading space for each 10,000 square feet of store floor area.

The proposed ordinance would at present apply to districts on Woodside Rd., El Camino Real and on Broadway.

Planning commission members declared that there had been so many applications for new businesses in the Woodside Rd. area that the new zoning measure would be especially applicable to that area.

"If we act ahead of time in requiring stores and other commercial interests to provide adequate parking space it will alleviate congestion caused from parking problems," Chmn. Francis Britschgi said.

Britschgi pointed out that the new parking lot provided for customers at the new J. C. Penney Co. store had done much to help the parking situation on Broadway.

The proposed ordinance would require parking facilities be provided at retail stores, office buildings, industries, restaurants, areas of public assembly, theaters, hotels, hospitals and clinics.

Part of the ordinance would provide that no building in an "H" district be constructed closer to the line of the street in such a manner that adequate parking space could not be secured.

The planning commission would set up the new "H" district which would be a combining district under the present zoning ordinance. Commission members voted to approve the ordinance and pass

150 at Dedication Of YMCA Facility

Approximately 150 persons Sunday afternoon attended services dedicating the new addition to the Sequoia Dist. YMCA building at Brewster Ave. and Clinton St.

Roy Sorenson, San Francisco YMCA director, said the building was dedicated for the training of young men in the YMCA program. He said that the YMCA in the Bay Area would be 100 years old in 1951 and that during that time it has been the custodian of many thousands of dollars worth of property. In order to manage much an amount of property, a strong Christian leadership has been needed, he stressed.

The "Y" building will be used for YMCA activities, YMCA committee meetings, and by groups interested in youth welfare.

Wilbur Doherty, chairman of the board of directors, introduced directors and visitors. John Dusek sang a solo, Donald L. Bogie, program chairman, pointed out that the addition was dedicated in time to take care of the opening of Sequoia High School today. He also called attention to the fact that the YMCA is one of the agencies of the Community Chest and that the Chest drive for funds starts Oct. 1.

Planners Okeh Subdivision Plan

The Redwood City Planning Commission this week approved the city's new 18-page proposed subdivision ordinance and sent it to the city council for action. The proposed ordinance, originally approved and recommended by the planning commission last March, would make it unlawful for any firm or association to subdivide any land within the city limits unless all the commission's requirements had been complied with.

The commission would have all the powers and duties with respect to tentative and final subdivision maps and to all laws that are related to the ordinance. The proposed ordinance would regulate subdivisions as to street and highways, easements, lots, walkways, water courses, master plans, deed restrictions and land subject to inundation. It would also regulate improvement and bond issues as to standards and approval, general requirements, monuments and agreements for bonds and improvements.

It also sets up regulations as to the filing of tentative subdivision maps as to form, action taken on the maps and matters in the subdivision of four lots or less. The same procedures would apply as to filing the final subdivision maps.

A penalty proposal in the ordinance would make it a misdemeanor to fail to comply with any of the mandatory provisions of the ordinance. Violators could be fined not to exceed $500 or be imprisoned for terms not to exceed six months.

The commission this week asked further study on an application of Oliver Johnson to rezone lots off Woodside Rd. and Kentfield Ave. for the purpose of erecting an outdoor theater. Johnson had presented a request for the rezoning of the area from an R-4, residential, area to a commercial area. He said his proposed theater would provide parking space for 800 cars and would be built at the cost of $100,000. The theater would be located near the Atherton School.

Commission members decided to talk the matter over with members of the county and Atherton planning commissions before taking action on Johnson's request.

SC Volunteer Shows 'Gain'

Condition of Henry J. Wrigley, 30-year-old member of the San Carlos Volunteer Fire Dept. who was injured in an automobile accident in Belmont Saturday was described as "much improved" today by attendants at Mills Memorial Hospital.

Wrigley, released shortly after the crash on El Camino Real near Ruth Ave., suffered a relapse at his home, 1525 Cherry St., early Sunday. He is undergoing treatment for contusions of the lower chest and upper abdomen and slight head injuries, his physicians said today.

San Carlos police responded to a call by Mrs. Gerry Matteroli, telephone operator, who heard Wrigley's groans after he had collapsed in an effort to telephone for aid. Wrigley had succeeded in knocking the receiver off the hook before losing consciousness, officers reported.

Fog Clears For Victim Of Amnesia

The fog which had made his mind a blank for 24 hours cleared Tuesday from Redwood City's "John Doe."

While talking with fellow inmates of the county jail this morning, the amnesia victim suddenly remembered who he is. He said his name is Clarence William Davis, 38, a truck driver, and he gave his address as 650 17th Ave., Menlo Park.

Davis showed up at the Redwood City police station early yesterday morning. He did not know who he was, and remembered only that he had walked to the station.

Dan Keller, Menlo Park trucking contractor, visited Davis at the county jail after he read accounts of the amnesia victim in the newspapers.

The mental fog started drifting away when a fellow inmate of the jail mentioned a horse race at Hawthorne, near Los Angeles, Tuesday.

Davis said that he has a daughter living in Hawthorne, and that apparently spurred his memory. He said he remembered starting out for Redwood City from Menlo Park Sunday night, and there his recollection ended. Davis said that he has suffered similar attacks in the past, but not for about 18 months. He said the previous attacks lasted only about 10 minutes each.

Junior Chamber Sets Club Picnic

Plans for the group's annual picnic, next Sunday, were completed last night at a meeting of the Redwood City Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Chmn. Jim Swift said the affair would be held at Memorial Park and would begin shortly after 10 a.m. The picnic will be open to members, their families and friends.

Moving pictures of this year's Easter Egg hunt sponsored by the Junior chamber were shown after the meeting.

The session, held at the Harris residence at 130 Arch St., was preceded by a spaghetti dinner. Pres. John Stegeman presided.

PROTECTION FOR EMERALD LAKE—These men are discussing a project which is good news for the families living in Emerald Lake. The men Wednesday afternoon began work on a fire station at Jefferson Ave. and California Way, the first such structure to be erected in this area. The building comes as a result of passage of a $150,000 bond issue to construct a new station at Woodside and this one in Emerald Lake. Men above are (l. to r.): A. F. Sundquist, contractor; Furber Libby, architect; Fire Chief Volpiano, and holding the line is Carl Sundquist.

Fisherman Safe After 2 Hr. Rescue

A husky coast guard's man air and carried them to the beach, about 100 yards away.

house Sunday pulled a water logged fisherman from the surf off San Mateo County while clinging to a rope dangling from a hovering helicopter.

The rescuer, Leonard Wiesniewski, held Fred Loretz, 36, of San Francisco while the helicopter lifted them into the community hospital.

Tommy Huggans Is Richer
By $100,362 for Feet Loss
 Tommy Huggans is the only Sequoia High School student today who can flash a new bank-book showing a deposit of over $100,000.
 The 15-year-old boy who three years ago lost both feet under a Southern Pacific train at the Redwood City depot started his sophomore year at Sequoia Monday.
 While Tommy, whose full name is Earl Maurice Huggans, was getting into the swing of school work, the superior court named the Bank of America branch in Redwood City as depository for the money granted Tommy as a result of the accident.
 The Southern Pacific Co. deposited $100,362 to Tommy's account, according to Tommy's attorney, Ivan R. Marovich. The money is to pay for Tommy's past and future medical expenses and for his education.
 The boy was hurt on Nov. 23, 1946, while he was crossing the tracks at the railroad station.
 A suit filed in his behalf resulted in a superior court judgment of $91,000. The Southern Pacific appealed from the judgment, but it was upheld by the higher courts.
 Yesterday's check represents the amount of the judgment plus interest.

Aid to Handicapped Plans Drawn in Meeting Series

The opening gun of the local level of the national program to promote greater understanding of the problems of handicapped workers was fired by the Lions Club of San Mateo at its luncheon meeting at Villa Chartier Wednesday.
 John M. Dodd of San Francisco, chief of the San Francisco district of the State Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation, was the principal speaker.
 Later this afternoon, Dodd addressed a 33-member committee, one of nearly 100 similar groups in California organized to sponsor a program of information and education aimed at convincing the public that a properly placed handicapped worker is an economic asset.
 President Truman has proclaimed Oct. 2-8 as National Employ the Handicapped Week.
 Representatives of industry and business, press, labor and veterans' organizations, managers of California Dept. of Employment offices in San Mateo County and the local representative of the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation met at San Mateo to make plans for active participation.
 Objectives of the committee include:
 1. The promotion of better understanding of the problems faced by handicapped workers.
 2. Promotion of employer acceptance of men and women with physical impairments as able productive workers in jobs for which they are qualified by experience, aptitude and training.
 3. The encouragement of employers to list their job openings with local state agencies, as the State Employment Services and the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation.
 4. The encouragement of handicapped workers who need rehabilitation to take advantage of service available which include physical restoration, guidance and training.
 Among those from this area sponsoring National Employ the Handicapped Week are Floyd D.
 Granger, veterans' service officer; Ray Spangler, Tribune publisher; Earl Lawton, field representative, Division of Apprenticeship Standards, State Dept.
 of Industrial Relations; B. W.
 Holmes, works manager, National Motor Bearing Co., all of Redwood City, and E. G. Ashby, treasurer, Dalmio Victor, and S.
 A. Ammerman, office manager, Lenkurt Electric Co., both of San Carlos.

Heintz, Kaufman
Plans RC Building
 Heintz & Kaufman Ltd., a subsidiary of the Dollar Steamship Co., has leased buildings at 947 Broadway for the construction of a new plant.
 The company, which manufactures radio and electric equipment, will build new laboratories, offices and engineering equipment and plans complete remodeling of the existing building which is now a storage warehouse.
 Probable cost of the remodeling work, including building of new laboratories will be in excess of $20,000. Officials of the company said they plan to extend the building back from the street frontage to include a working area of more than 22,000 square feet.
 In addition to the remodeling job $75,000 worth of equipment will be moved to the site for the construction of radar tubes. The company is under government contract to the government for the manufacture of this equipment.

3 Youths Escape,
Two Still Are Loose
 Three boys escaped from Hillcrest, San Mateo County's juvenile hall Sunday, and two still were on the loose today.
 The third boy, frightened and hungry, walked into the Cow Palace Grocery Store on Geneva Ave. last night and asked the operator to call the police.
 Probation Officer John S.
 Cassing said that the boys still missing are William Senick, 13, of Mountain View, and Robert Booker, 13, San Francisco. They were believed to have headed south after their escape.
 The escape occurred about noon. Cowgill said that a dependent boy had been working in the walled court yard at Hillcrest during the morning, and when he was through he rapped on the building's door to be let in.

How Janie helps herself to better service
 Answering promptly—giving others a full minute to answer her call—are first on Janie's list of aids to service.

How Janie helps herself to better service
 Answering promptly—giving others a full minute to answer her call—are first on Janie's list of aids to service.

1. "Allowing a little time between calls," says Janie, "gives others a chance to call me . . .
 and it's a nice party-line courtesy, too." So when she's getting the gang together for a picnic, or for any reason needs to make calls in a row, she waits several minutes between each one. "It's simple to make friends with others on our line.
 I just use the telephone the way I like them to."

2. Looking up numbers, Janie knows, is really important. "So easy to get them mixed up," she explains. "Why, I was just sure Babs' number was 8145 . . . but when I called her I got the drug store. Turned out her number was 8
